

Want to launch your communications career at an award-winning agency? The MP&F Diversity Fellowship Program can help kick start your career. To get details and apply, visit mpf.com/careers.

WHO IS ELIGIBLE?

College seniors, recent graduates and graduate students from diverse backgrounds who are interested in pursuing a career in advertising, communication, marketing or public relations. Previous internship experience in one or more of these fields is preferred.

HOW TO APPLY

Complete the application at mpf.com/careers. Questions? Shoot them to internships@mpf.com.

WHAT WILL YOU DO?

Contribute to real client projects, manage a special project, and reap the benefits of MP&F's professional development and mentoring programs. Fellows will work 30 to 40 hours/week for up to six months. This paid fellowship is structured to introduce diverse candidates to all aspects of strategic communications. MP&F fellows will gain hands-on experience in:

- Research
- Integrated communication
- Social media content
- Strategy and analytics
- Working in teams
- Developing pitches
- Writing and editing
- Media relations
- Project management
- Event planning and coordination
- Video production
- And much more!

ABOUT MP&F

MP&F Strategic Communications is an award-winning, full-service communications firm in Nashville, Tenn. MP&F is one of the largest independent communication firms in the Southeast. MP&F is an equal opportunity employer. We do not discriminate on the basis of race, color, sex, religion, age, sexual orientation, national origin, disability or veteran status.